

GIT & GITLAB (WITH GITHUB) — MODERN DEVELOPER WORKFLOW (TTDV7553)

Course Code: 100877

Git and GitLab/GitHub tools are the twin pillars of the developers' Continuous Integration and Continuous Delivery toolbox. By using these tools effectively, developers and DevOps engineers can ensure much higher quality code and better results.

This course provides a hands-on, modern introduction to Git, with a strong focus on GitLab workflows while remaining fully compatible with GitHub. Participants learn best practices for collaboration, branching, rebasing, code review, and CI/CD.

What You'll Learn

Join an engaging hands-on learning environment, where you'll learn:

- Confident use of Git with GitLab or GitHub
- Modern workflows
- Safe collaboration
- CI/CD pipelines
